1.0 Executive Summary

Noting that the 4th AfICTA Summit with the theme: Internet of Things for Sustainable Development (IoT4SD), held on 11th - 14th October, 2016 in Windhoek, Namibia;

Appreciating that the Summit was organized by AfICTA- Africa Information and Communication Technologies Alliance, and hosted by the ICT Professionals' Association of Namibia (ICT-PAN) under the auspices of the Ministry of ICT, Namibia;

Considering that the Summit focused on sub-themes which included: The role of ICT in job creation; IoT, Affordability, Connectivity & Scenarios; Youth Development; SDGs & Cybersecurity; Internet Governance for SD – Aligning the Technical, social and political layers together; Sustaining critical infrastructure for IoTs and Keeping Internet safe, secure and resilient;

Taking into consideration interventions by eminent speakers at the Summit including Hon Tjekero Tweya, Minister of ICT Namibia; who set the tone with an inspiring opening speech, the Summit hereby declares as follows:

1. In view of and in alignment with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SGDs) national ICT policies, laws, regulations and practices should be reviewed for compliance and for inclusive benefits for all citizens.
2. The Internet of Things (IoT) presents a new opportunity for job creation in all sectors. That concerned stakeholders particularly governments and the private sector should evolve IoT strategies that maximize job opportunities for African youths. In this wise, long term tax holidays should be prioritized for business startups.
3. National multi-stakeholder dialogues on Internet Governance (IG) should be supported and, where not existing, convened in collaboration with government, private sector, civil society and the technical/academic community. That such dialogue will engender trust and commitment in tackling in-country IG issues such as Internet access and affordability for all, cybersecurity, mitigating cybercrime, quality of service, local content digitization, innovation/creativity, IPv6 deployment and other issues.

CHAPTER 1

About AfICTA

1.1 Introduction

Africa Information & Communication Technologies Alliance - AfICTA is a concerned private sector led alliance of ICT Associations, Multi-national Corporations, Companies, Organisations and individuals in the ICT sector in Africa.

1.2 Vision

Our vision is to fulfill the promise of the digital age for everyone in Africa.

1.3 Mission

Our mission is to encourage multi-stakeholder dialogue fostering accelerated and ICT enabled development in Africa and the use of cutting-edge innovative technologies including mobile, computing and satellite technologies to achieve an Information society in Africa.

1.4 Objectives

Our goals are to

1. Organise non-government ICT stakeholders in Africa for effective local and continental advocacy
2. Be the focal point for Africa ICT advocacy in the global digital economy.
3. Promote constant improvement in African digital literacy in collaboration with stakeholders.
4. Create partnerships with the African Union and all the regional economic commissions towards realizing global sustainable development targets for Africa
5. Support effective dialogue between members and policy makers.
6. Mobilise the core leadership of African ICT professionals and experts in the business community, academic and technical community and civil society to be fully engaged in the global Internet Governance multi-stakeholder dialogues.
7. Promote business partnerships between members and their associations' members.
8. Contribute to capacities building by promoting best practices, encouraging regional projects, sharing data (skills, expertise, events, business announcements, exhibitions, seminars),
9. Organize an annual regional summit for knowledge sharing and cross-African advocacy.

CHAPTER 2

2.0 About Summit 2016

2.1 Overview

Undoubtedly one of the greatest inventions of man, the Internet has continued to shape the way mankind lives, works and plays. With over 3 billion people already connected in the world and more than 300million connected in Africa; and the existence of technological structures, protocols and unique numbers (IPv6) to support its continuous evolution; and given the global community resolve to sustain development, AfICTA at its 4th Summit focused on how the Internet of Things (IoT) phenomenon could help advance and sustain Africa's development in the areas of health service delivery, e-government, e-commerce, job creation and overall improvement in the standard of living of the people.

With a more connected Africa, are we closer to:

Surpassing the 15% intra-African trade?

Taking 60% of our people out of poverty?

Building a critical mass of skilled labour for tomorrow's prosperity?

...are we able to grapple with the attendant cyber security, political, social and cultural challenges that IoT would engender?

At the 4th AfICTA Summit, high level panels of African ICT Ministers, regulators, development specialists and decision makers provided insights and shared perspectives on making strategies and policies work for the future of Africa. Businesses shared award winning solutions for e-health, e-government and e-payment. Experts provided techniques for cyber-security assurance and investors found ingenious opportunities for investment and more...

CHAPTER 3

3.0 The Summit Report

3.1. Introduction

ICT Professionals Association of Namibia - ICT-PAN under the auspices of the Ministry of ICT Namibia hosted 4th AfICTA Annual Summit at Safari hotel Conference Centre, Windhoek, Namibia from 11 to 13 October, 2016, with the aim to aid and foster intra-African trade through multi-stakeholder approach to the realization of the Sustainable Development Goals -SDGs.

AfICTA Summit was first hosted in Lagos, Nigeria in 2013. The Egyptian ICT industry association and the government of Egypt hosted the second edition in 2014. The third edition took place in Johannesburg, last year. This 4th edition was hosted by the ICT Professionals Association of Namibia (ICT-PAN) with the support of the Namibian Ministry of ICT.

3.2 Summit Theme

The theme of the Summit was “Internet of Things for Sustainable Development” in Africa and the event attracted more than 70 participants from Africa and beyond. Among which were: Host country, Namibia, Nigeria, South Africa, Egypt, Kenya, Ethiopia, USA, Tanzania, Belgium, Malaysia...

The Summit focused on several sub-themes which included: The role of ICT in job creation; IoT, Affordability, Connectivity & Scenarios; Youth Development; SDGs & Cyber-security; Internet Governance for SD; Sustaining critical infrastructure for IoTs and Keeping Internet safe, secure and resilient.

3.3 Day 1

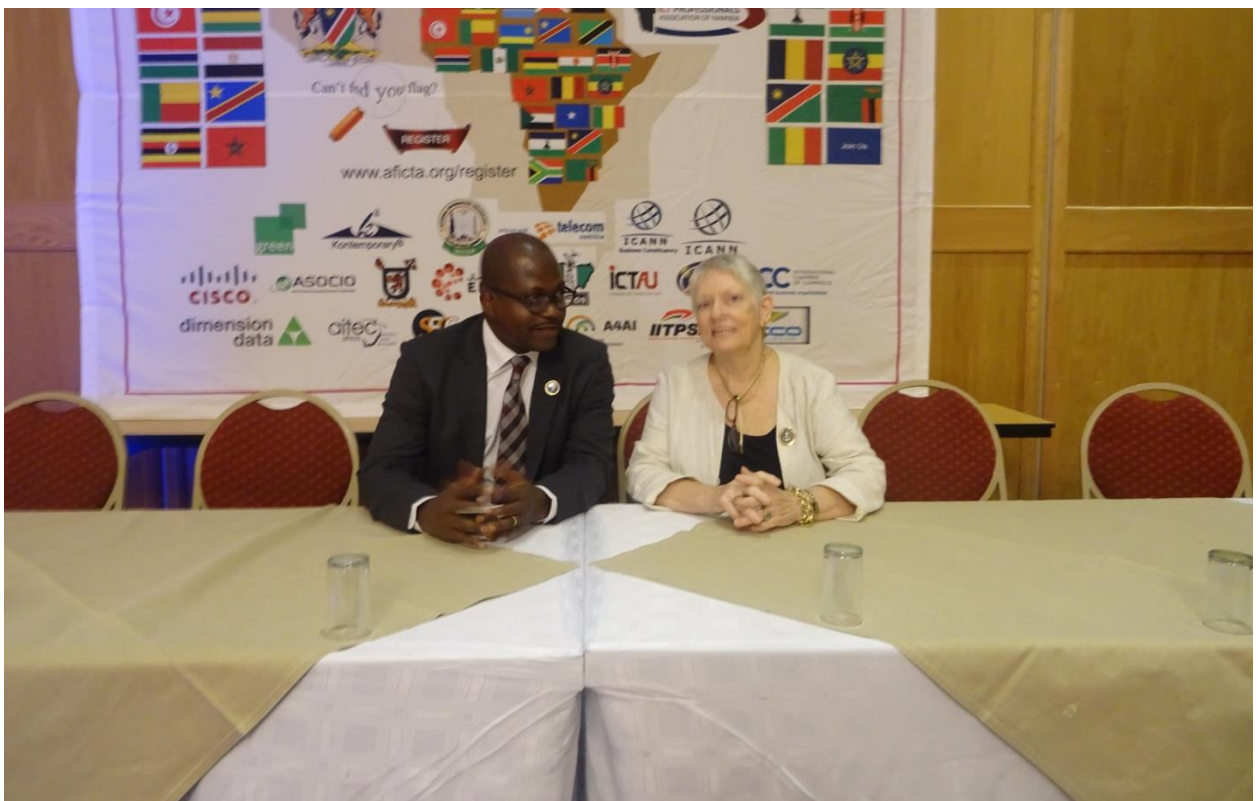

The event kicked-off with delegates’ accreditation on Tuesday, 11 October, 2016 by the Secretariat after which accredited delegates of about 20 proceeded to partake in the welcome cocktail.

During the welcome cocktail, the Chair of AfICTA, Dr Jimson Olufuye expressed his gratitude to as many delegates that made it to the special event. Indicating that AfICTA is an organization that has vision to fulfill the promise of the digital age for everyone in Africa and that in one accord the vision is realistic. The cocktail came to an end with the song “I am here, because you are here...”

3.4 Day 2

The summit was officially declared open on Wednesday, 12 October, 2016 with a moment for Namibia national anthem and African Union anthem followed by welcome speech from the Chair Summit 2016 Committee, Mr Paul Rowney who in his statements recognized delegates home and abroad for their commitment to AfICTA. He concluded his speech by appreciating all the sponsors for their critical support.

Subsequently, the Chair AfICTA, Dr Jimson Olufuye during his welcome address recognized all the stakeholders, AfICTA partners and sponsors, iterating that as Africa embraces IoTs and the opportunities it presents to us, 17 Sustainable Development Goals realization should also be our ultimate focus. Enlighten delegates, he said 6 countries concerned private sector stakeholders formed AfICTA in May 2012, with the vision to join others to remove the notion of “dark” Africa, “dark” Continent and that the Alliance has grown from 6 countries within the short period of 4 years to 27 member nations.

Welcoming delegates during his opening remarks, the host Minister of ICT, Honorable Tjekero Tweya charged all delegates to ensure that they communicate necessary information with available technology for ICT to be meaningful and impactful to the well-being of all citizens. He lamented that in most cases, while the technology is available those that have the necessary information for prosperity refused to communicate it to those that really need them. He thanked AfICTA for convening the Summit in Windhoek, Namibia and hoped the synergy for sustainable development which the Summit brings will be sustained in Namibia and across Africa.

Other keynote speakers during the opening remarks included Marilyn Cade, CEO mCADE LLC; Patrick L. Jones, Senior Director, Global Stakeholder Engagement, ICANN; Engr Hossam Elgamal, Chairman of Egyptian Cabinet, IDSC Egypt.

Next session was on Internet of Things for Sustainable Development. The session was moderated by Abdul Hakeem Ajijola, CEO Consultancy Services Ltd and the panelists were Adrian Schofield, Okwu Marcus Eke, Engr Hossam Elgamal and Oguntade Temitope with expository discussion on the impacts of IoTs and technology on Health management, eGovernment, Agriculture production, Adaptive learning culture and Innovative initiatives. The session also focused on how some problems such as online extremist, right violation, unemployment, child abuse, security threat... initiated by IoTs could be mitigated. The session ended with questions & answer and contributions from the audience.

Session on The role of ICT in job creation commenced immediately and was moderated by Dr Waudu Siganga the Chairman of Computer Society of Kenya – CSK. Discussants included Mr Alaa Elkhishen, Lucky Masilela, Yusuph kileo. Opening the session, Dr Waudu stated how important job creation is to economic and social development of a country or continent and how ICT can enhance more job opportunities for the teeming youth. This session reviewed AfICTA Joburg declaration to create 1 Million jobs by 2020 in Africa as Mr Alaa El Khishen gave a presentation and encouraged volunteers towards its realization. The session ended by entertaining questions and contributions from the audience.

The third session, IoT, Affordability, Connectivity and Scenarios took off shortly after lunch and was moderated by Dr Jimson Olufuye who introduced the panelist as thus: Ms Onica Makwakwa (A4AI), Dr Hylton Villet (My Digital Bridge Foundation), Mark Rotter, Servias Mazhetese and Joseph Alhadeff (Chair ICC BASIS) who joined remotely. Dr Hylton Villet, the first speaker came in with some statistics on the penetration of Internet in African nations a case study of Namibia which has not been doing well so far due to obsolete regulations. He concluded with the sentence “We have to stare-up when it comes to the adoption of new possibilities in terms of connecting the unconnected”. Joseph Alhadeff intervened remotely followed by Ms Onica Makwakwa from Alliance for Affordable Internet an organization that advocates for Internet affordability and availability that is also concerned with swift penetration of Internet in Africa. The session ended with questions from the audience.

As the third session ended, a session dedicated for one of the Summit sponsors, CISCO/Dimension Data began, Ms Pastora Valero, Director EU Public Policy, CISCO discussed at length how IoTs factor remains crucial to the realization of world digitalization and expatiated the role of Internet to connected homes, health care, agriculture, manufacturing, transportation, smart city and others. In addition, she considered what could be challenges of IoTs in the future and how to overcome them. The baton was later transferred to Wolf Stinner her colleague who completed the presentation. The session ended with questions and answer, with contributions from the audience.

AfICTA board meeting took place at the Summit venue.

Event day 2 was brought to an end with buffet dinner and award presentation.

3.7 Day 3

The Summit continued on Thursday, 13 October with an important seminar topic on Youth Development, focusing on Building Career in ICT, Hot ICT demand jobs and How to become Entrepreneur. Session moderated by Ms Arinola Akinyemi with two discussants Abdul Hakeem Ajijola, CEO Consultancy Services Ltd and Lawrence Olawale-Robert, CEO Microboss.

Session on SDG & Cyber security commenced immediately after the session on Youth Development Seminar and was chaired by Dr El Lisse, CEO .Na Registry. Speakers on the panel included Yusuph Kileo, MD National CF; Patric L. Jones, Snr Director, Global Stakeholder Engagement, ICANN; Lucky Masilela, Chairman, .za Registry. Yusuph Kileo who tabled several instances of cyber security bridges and attacks in Africa during his 10 minutes intervention also stated steps being taken to avoid such instances in the future among which were 1.Integration of cyber security experts to Financial Institutions, Telecom Companies and others, 2. Collaboration with advanced countries eg Nigeria collaboration with Australia, 3.Attacked entities/companies must voice out for them to be rescued, 4. Capacity building and seminars to keep Internet users alerted.

Furthermore, Lucky Masilela of .za registry opened up with the statistics on ccTLDs registration and the disparity between African countries, stating that the gap between nations like South Africa (with total population of 52.9 million) that has 1.2 million registered ccTLDs and Nigeria (with total population of 174 million) and has just 60,000 ccTLDs could be attributed to low awareness and cost of the domain registration. He rounded off admonishing ccTLD Registrars to as much as possible cut the cost of their country code Top Level Domains.

The session dedicated to BC-ICANN, one of the prominent Summit sponsors was chaired by Marilyn Cade, CEO mCADE strategies, member BC Outreach Committee. Speakers on the high table were Dr Jimson Olufuye, AfICTA Chair and Vice Chair BC-ICANN, Nirvana Farrag Director General, Int'l Cooperation, the Egyptian Cabinet Information and Decision Center, Natasha Tibinyane, National Director at Ministry of ICT Namibia, and Lynn St Amour President and CEO of Internet Society who intervened remotely.
